

TRAVEL NEWS YOUR WAY

THE AMERICAS

China Outbound Travel & Tourism Market

COOTM 2012

100% Outbound 100% B2B

AU

HOME TOP STORIES AVIATION CAR COMPETITIONS CRUISE HOSPITALITY INCENTIVES INDUSTRY

FREE Daily Newsletter:

Search:

Previous Edition

Photo Gallery

Add comments

Print this page

Email this article

Like

0

MITM Americas ‘blessed’ in El Salvador

Wednesday, November 23, 2011

PHOTO GALLERY

::MITM Americas ‘blessed’ in El Salvador::

The first day of the 17th MITM Americas saw grey skies, a touch of sun and then torrential rain – a sign according to El Salvador’s tourism minister that the event was blessed with success and prosperity.

After a day touring the sites of capital San Salvador and stopping for pupusas and a drop of the local brew, Suprema, buyers stopped for lunch at Pueblo Viejo. Greeted by tamarind and coconut sorbet (to cleanse the palate – an excuse for dessert before meals), e-Travel Blackboard was on location to sample authentic Salvadorian delights and entertainment.

Cocktails at Plaza Futura, replete with floating costumed locals was followed by dinner at famed archaeological site, San Andres.

See images of a great day below.

